DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 56-60 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Soga et al. (US 4,970,575).

Soga teaches a semiconductor device comprising (see Fig. 5A) a semiconductor chip 1 having a plurality of electrode pads (not shown but it is inherent); a molding resin structure 11 covering, the molding resin structure having a first main surface and a second main surface opposite the first main surface; a plurality of terminals 2 formed on the first main surface of the structure 11, the terminals 2 are electrically connected to the electrode pads, respectively; and a stripe groove 21 formed on the second main surface of the structure 11, wherein the strip groove 21 divides the second main surface asymmetrically (see Figs. 5A and 5B).

Concerning claim 57, wherein the stripe groove 21 has a V shaped profile, please see Fig. 5A.

Concerning claim 58, wherein the stripe groove 21 has a U shaped profile, please see Fig. 8.

Concerning claims 59 and 60, a semiconductor device according to claim 56, further comprising an auxiliary strip groove formed on the second main surface of the structure, wherein the first groove (the topmost horizontal groove) and the auxiliary groove (the leftmost groove) intersect at an off-center point (also see Fig. 5B), and wherein the auxiliary stripe groove is parallel to the stripe groove, and wherein the stripe groove divides the second main surface asymmetrically, for example into 1/3, and 2/3 portions as shown (see Fig. 5B).

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 61, 62, 75, 78 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The applied reference fails to teach and/or suggest as follows:

- wherein the terminals are arranged in a plurality of rows;
- wherein the stripe groove is formed at a position corresponding to one of the rows of the terminals;
- wherein the stripe groove has a function of indicia for recognizing an orientation of the semiconductor device; and
- wherein the stripe groove is formed over the semiconductor chip.

3. Claims 63-74, 76, 79, and 80 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the applied reference as discussed above fails to further teach including a steplike section formed on one of the sides of the second main surface of the structure; and further fails to teach having a first roughness on the second main surface.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 06/30/04 have been fully considered.

Applicant argued in pages 7 and 8 that "[R]eference 21 identifies a groove....It is respectfully submitted that the sloping sides of Soga's structure. Which cooperate to form the grooves 21 between structures, cannot accurately be characterized as being formed on the second main surface of the structure...." The examiner respectfully disagrees with the applicant's arguments. Because the claim does not cite that the groove has to be directly on the top of, for example a single chip, rather, on the second main surface of the structure, and Fig. 5A clearly shows the first groove and the auxiliary groove on the second main surface of the structure. The remarks are noted, as established above, eg, the first groove and the auxiliary groove formed on the second main surface of the structure, which clearly meets the limitations in the present claims, and is simple not patentable.
